On the Pubnetwork™

THIS PAGE ORIGINATED AT PUBNETWORK•COM™

Go to the www.pubnetwork.com home page

This is a directory of bars, taverns and restaurants (and some clubs) serving beer, wine and spirits. Sorry if I missed a few. This list does not include Station Square.

Although I have some notes and historical information this is not a review.

Bars can serve from 7 am thru 2 pm but most open at 11 am.

The Zip Code for the South Side is 15203

Smoking Note

Smoking is not permitted in most indoor places in Allegheny County due to the Commonwealth's Clean Indoor Act of 2008. Under certain conditions bars, but not restaurants, can be granted smoking status. Some of them are noted below. Their food orders cannot be greater than 20% of their total sales. Restaurants that have a bar can apply but they have more stringent rules. The bar is required to post a sign permitting smoking and barring anyone under 21.

See the Clean Act at www.health.state.pa.us for the latest updates

Construction Alert

East Carson Street in the vicinity of the South Side Works is being widened. The construction zone is between South 25th Street to South 33rd Street. This will affect traffic coming across the Hot Metal Bridge from Second Avenue and the South Side Works. Notice how I used the proper word, affect and not "impact" in this article. The work will be performed in stages and last until the autumn of 2010.

1805 E Carson St (river side) just east of South 18th St

Fat Heads was the first bar in town, that I know, that sells drafts to go (64oz Growlers). The bar has 38 wall taps, 3 Belgians on a post and one beer engine. An unknown customer invented a beer at this bar. It comes to you as a blend of Rouge (William) Shakespeare Stout and Dead (Jerry Garcia) Guy Ale and touches your lips as the Dead Poet. Could one of them be drinking at Fat Heads? Beer Union is their bottle shop and gift shop located on the second floor.

Fat Head's Cleveland is the operation in North Olmstead, Ohio (western edge of Cleveland) going by the name Fat Head's Brewery. Their beers are always on tap (until we drink them dry). Thanks to brewer Mat Cole.

This is the sister to the one in Newport, Kentucky (same owner). The Pittsburgh Hofbrau does a keg tapping on the last Wednesday of the month (but maybe not every month) between 7 & 7:30 pm. The brewer, Eckhard Kurbjuhn, is from Munich and judging by the beers he does an excellent job. He is a start-up brewer so he may be moving on someday. On deck is assistant brewer Shawn Setzenfand who came in from the Penn Brewery. Let's hope Shawn take the top post if and when Mr. Kurbjuhn leaves. Do a search for Eckhard Kurbjuhn at <http://www.post-gazette.com>.

They serve beer by the Litre and half litre. A litre is just over a US quart pouring in at 33.76 ounces. Yes, they are heavy. A half litre (16.88 ounces) is just a tad larger than a US pint. Sample racks are also available.

Parking Note

Parking on the South Side could be tight. Meters on the streets are not enforced after 6PM but the metered lots are enforced 24/7 by the Parking Authority. Don't expect free off-street parking, as non-metered lots are private. The spots and garages at the South Side Works are much the same.

The South Side Works www.southsideworks.com

This is a new development that replaced the former Jones and Laughlin Steel Company. Here, one can find Claddagh Irish Pub, the Cheese Cake Factory and the Hofbräuhaus. There are several pay parking garages (not listed above) and several banks with outdoor ATM's (not listed above). Despite what the SSW website tells you it is not in the heart of the South Side.

Beer Note

The pull-tab on a can of beer was developed by Alcoa Aluminum and first used by Pittsburgh Brewing Co. now www.ironcitybrewingcompany.com (Iron City beer) in 1962. These two companies also came out with the first Aluminum bottle. For more fun fact of Pittsburgh, see www.pittsburgh.about.com/cs/movies/a/filmed.htm
